

NCAA PROHIBITED BBCOR BASEBALL BATS
UPDATED DECEMBER 1, 2021
COMPLIANCE WITH RULE 1.12.B.7

This list has been created to provide guidance to NCAA member institutions regarding what bat models do not meet the NCAA Baseball Playing Rules. The bats included on this list appear on the BBCOR approved baseball bats list, but do not meet the requirements of Rule 1.12.b.7, requiring that the baseball bat barrel color between the 18-inch mark and the end cap (the hitting area) must be a color(s) that is predominantly contrasting to the color of the baseball. The BBCOR approved bat list is shared by the NCAA and the National High School Federation and the playing rules regarding barrel color differ between the two federations. Until there are separate lists for the two organizations, the NCAA will maintain this list of baseball bat models to provide guidance regarding bat models that do not meet the NCAA Baseball Playing Rules.

Please note that this list includes specific bat model numbers associated with graphic designs that are not compliant with the playing rules. Manufacturers may use the same model name year after year. When determining if a bat is compliant with the playing rule, it is important to identify the specific model number, not just the model name. Models that have been decertified by the NCAA are not included in this list as those models are no longer BBCOR compliant.

Please direct any questions about specific bat models to Ben Brownlee (bbrownlee@ncaa.org).
