30 and 60 second timeouts: Each team will have four timeouts to start the game. Three 30-second timeouts and one 60-second timeout each. Each team may carry over its 60-second timeout and up to two 30-second timeouts to the second half. In each overtime period, a team will carry over any remaining timeouts, while gaining one 30-second timeout.

Media timeouts: Four automatic timeouts will be taken in each half, and will be called by the official timer in cooperation with the officials. These will take place after the first dead ball situation following the 16, 12, 8, and 4-minute marks in each half, and will be 75 seconds in length (The first horn sounds with 15 seconds remaining in the break, the second when the time expires). When a timeout is granted and creates a dead ball with 30 seconds or less before the media marks or creates the first dead ball after one of the media marks, that timeout will become the media timeout for that specified media mark time. In addition, the first timeout called by either team in the second half will be a media timeout, and be 75 seconds in length -- regardless of what was charged to the team.
