

MEMORANDUM

November 19, 2023

VIA EMAIL

TO: Selected Tournament Directors.

FROM: Ty Halpin
Director, Championships and Alliances.

Alyssa Rice
Assistant Director, Championships and Alliances.

SUBJECT: Weather Monitoring Information.

The NCAA has made arrangements through DTN to provide a lightning detection and weather monitoring system to all rounds of competition for fall championships. This system will assist the event management staff and the NCAA representatives in case of inclement weather during the championship.

The following arrangements will apply:

- MxVision WeatherSentry Online® is an internet-based lightning detection and weather monitoring system that does not require any equipment to be shipped to the host site.
- Each host facility must have access to a computer with internet access. Also, each site may have a maximum of three designated email addresses for instant notification. It is preferred that these email addresses are for a cellular phone or pager that can receive a text message; however, a standard email address will work. If a standard email address is used, this email address must be monitored at all times.
- Charges for the use of MxVision WeatherSentry Online will be billed directly to the NCAA and will not be charged to the host institution's approved championship budget.
- Information about your site-specific subscription, login identification and password will be sent to you once you complete the "MxVision WeatherSentry Online Registration".

If you have a weather prediction system and/or a lightning detection system that you use during the regular season, you still may use that in conjunction with MxVision WeatherSentry®. This service is provided so that all sites will have the resources available to ensure the safety of our student-athletes, spectators and event management staff.

If you would like more information on the service, please contact:
