QUALIFYING PROCEDURES

Divers will qualify for the NCAA championships based on performances at their respective regional meet.

Qualifying Procedures

Each regional diving meet will be given a fixed number of NCAA championship qualifiers to ensure equitable access opportunities. This number will be determined by the number of divers eligible to compete in a given region who have submitted all necessary information to compete in regional competition. At the end of the qualification period, all divers eligible to compete in a regional meet, as determined by the criteria listed, will be assigned to their geographic region. The number of eligible divers at each region will be divided by the total number of eligible divers at all regions then multiplied by 24 for men and 29 for women to determine the ratio for assigned qualification spots. Regardless of ratios, no region will have less than two qualifiers. The regional qualification allocation shall be posted on ncaa.org by Thursday, February 23rd, 2023. Qualifiers for the NCAA Division III Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships will be determined through the processes listed on page 18 of this manual.

RATNER ATHLETICS CENTER

Designed by famed architect Cesar Pelli, the Gerald Ratner Athletics Center opened to the University of Chicago community in the fall of 2003. The building is named in honor of Gerald Ratner (A.B.'35, J.D.'37), who was an outfielder for Chicago during its days as a member of the Big Ten Conference.

Located at the southwest corner of Ellis Avenue and 55th Street, the air-conditioned, 150,000 square-foot facility features the 50-meter x 25-yard Myers-McLoraine Swimming Pool; the Bernard DelGiorno Fitness Center with cardiovascular exercise equipment, selectorized weightlifting machines, and free weights; a multipurpose dance studio; competition and auxiliary gymnasia; classroom and meeting room space; permanent and day lockers and locker rooms; the University of Chicago Athletics Hall of Fame; and the athletic department offices.

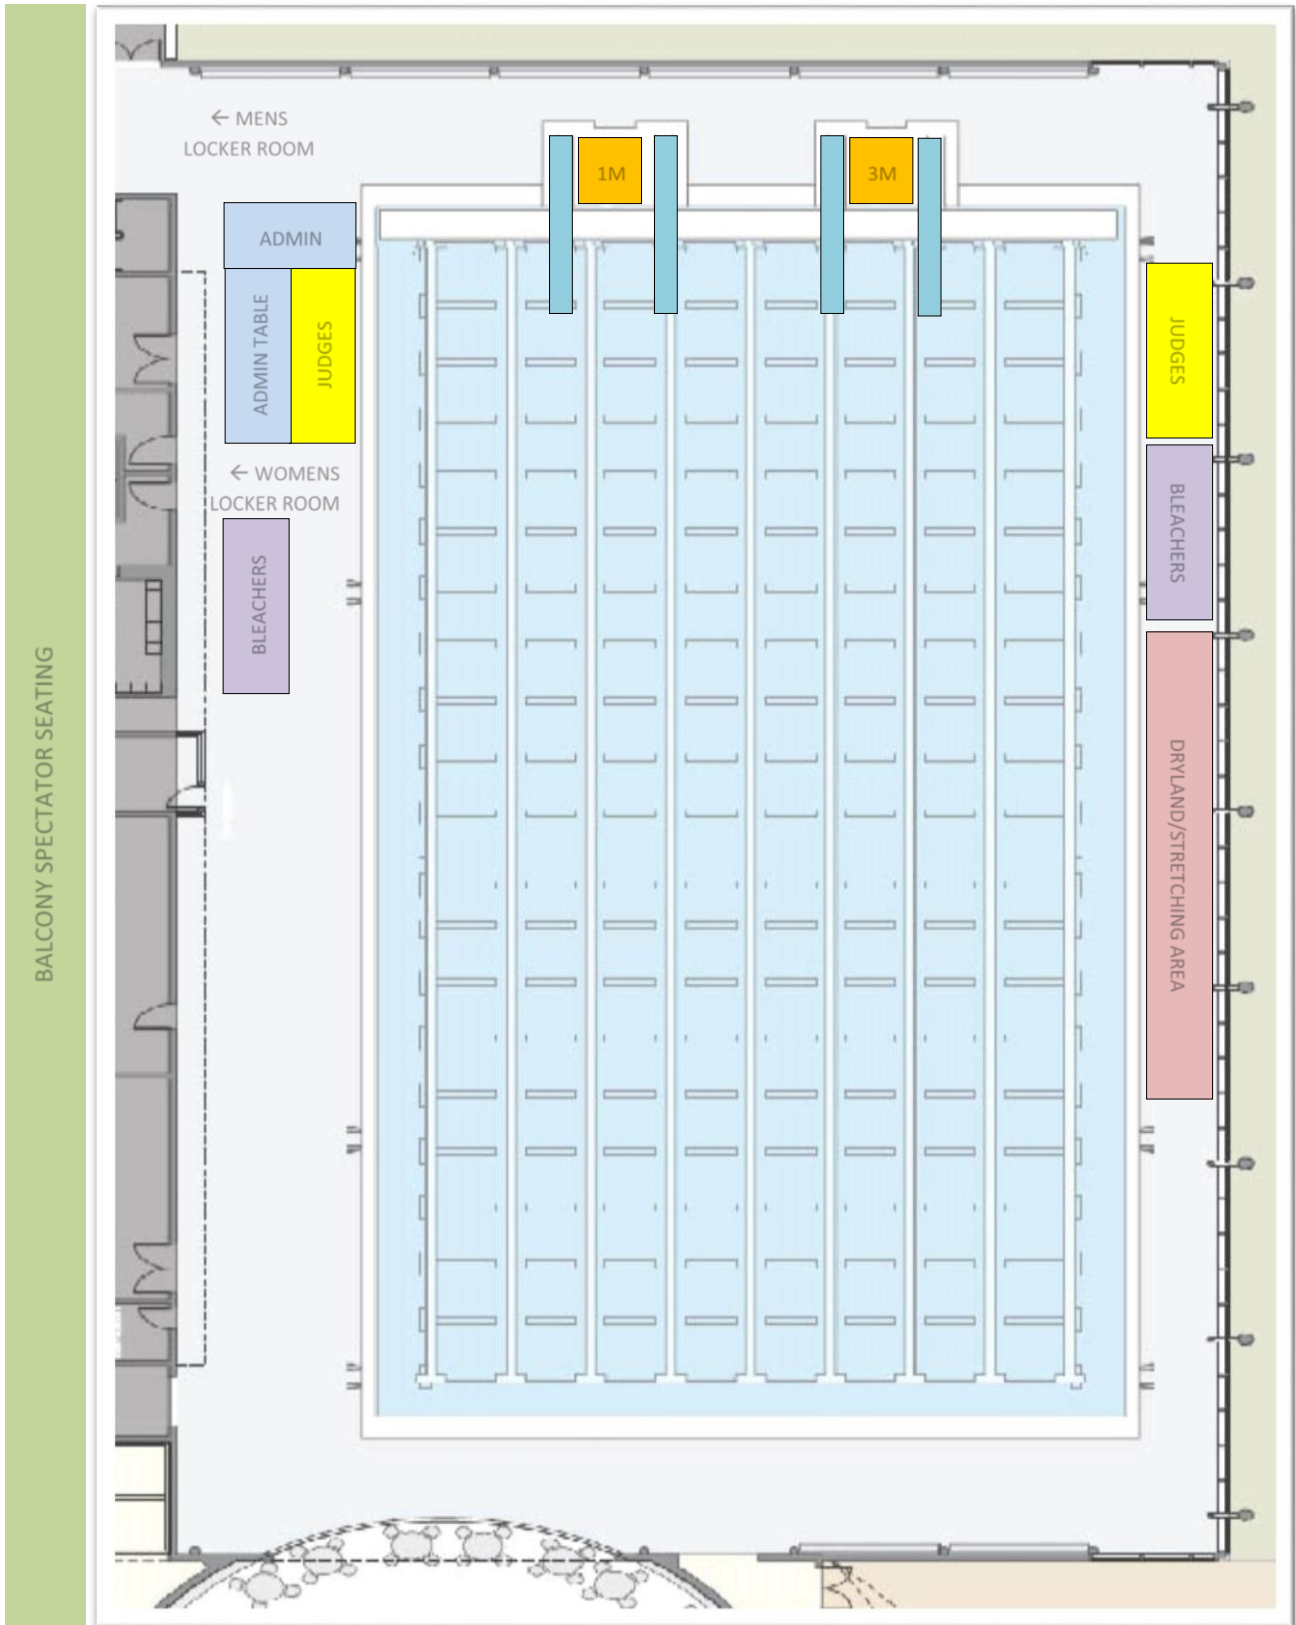

The Ratner Center also serves as the home of the University of Chicago basketball, volleyball, and wrestling teams. The 1,658-seat competition gymnasium has played host to the 2006 NCAA Division III Great Lakes Regional Wrestling Championship, the 2004, 2007, and 2010 University Athletic Association Wrestling Championships, as well as the 2009 & 2019 UAA Volleyball Championship. In addition to hosting numerous UChicago Swimming & Diving events, the Myers-McLoraine Swimming Pool served as the host site of the 2005, 2009, 2013, 2017, and 2019 UAA Swimming and Diving Championship, the 2015 & 2018 NCAA Region 1 Diving Championships, and the 2015 USA Diving Region 7 Championships.

The diving well is 13.5 feet deep and has two 1-meter springboards and two 3-meter springboards on Paragon stands. Participants also have the luxury of watching their dives on one of two 30-second delay mounted TV screens through a camera and DVR system. A hot water tub and light snacks and refreshments will also be available to the student-athletes throughout the regional championship.

*Use this form to aid in the selection of judges for each day/event. (Makes copies as necessary.)

1. Fill out the respective Regional form as names are pulled.
2. Identify the number of institutions competing/judges available; this will determine the number of judges need.
3. Draw names by random selection and complete the respective column.
4. Head Referee will be hired by host sites and used as Head Referee and Judge for all Panels.

 - a. Both institutions are entered into the selection pool.
 - b. For the 6-12 judge panels, once one institution is selected for Panel A, the other institution is automatically put on Panel B or vice versa. (There is no opportunity for the 2nd institution to be selected for Panel A&B).
 - c. In the 13+ judge panel, once one institution is selected for Panel A, the 2nd institution is taken out of consideration for Panel A. The second institution is then put back out for selection for Panel B.

If neither institution is selected for Panel A, once one is selected for Panel B, the other institution is removed from the pool.

The NCAA Rep on site will manage the Judges Selection process.

DIVING TIEBREAKER

(Applies to ties on an individual board to identify order of finish)

In the event of a tie between two or more divers from a regional qualifying meet, the tie will be broken by comparing each of the diver's total optional score on the board in which the tie has occurred. The diver with the highest total optional score would have the higher finishing position at their regional event. In the event there is a tie on the total optional score, the tie will be broken by the higher place on the opposite board. If one competitor is not competing on the opposite board, the competitor who is competing on the opposite board automatically will receive the higher selection position. All ties must be broken prior to diving qualifications/allocations being identified.

DIVING QUALIFICATION

(Applies to identification of each allocated spot)

When all results are made final, including any tiebreakers, the allocated spots will be determined as follows (refer to the Diving Selection Criteria for the allocation formula):

1. First place finishers from each board will be selected, using two of the allocated spots. If the same person finishes first on both boards, only one allocation will be used for that athlete.
2. Next, second place finishers from each board will be selected, using two of the allocated spots. If the same person finishes second on both boards, or one/both of the athletes have already been selected, only one or no allocations will be used.
3. This will continue with each finishing spot (third, fourth, fifth, etc.) until all the allocated spots have been assigned for each region.
4. If there is one allocation left and two divers who have not been selected are up for qualification, finishing in the same ranking on each board, the committee will use the divers combined score made up of their one-meter and three-meter scores. The competitor who has the highest score will be invited to the meet, earning the final allocation.

DIVING PROTEST PROCEDURE

- At the coaches' meeting, a meet committee must be designated who will hear and decide all protests.
- The committee shall consist of five coaches to be selected at the coaches' meeting. An alternate coach should also be identified in the case one of the initial coaches' student athletes is involved in the protest. The site representative and head referee will serve as advisors (non-voting).
- If a protest should occur, the protesting coach should find a member of the meet committee to turn in the protest form.
- Protests must be received within 30 minutes of the final diving results of that particular event.
- A member of the meet committee must call Will Hopkins (317-917-6779) to communicate what the protest entails.
- The meet committee will review and vote on the protest; if a protesting coach is involved with the meet committee, they should remove themselves from discussion and voting.
- The meet committee will communicate back to the protesting coach what action they agreed upon. All protests are final once action has been taken.

NCAA DIVING PROTEST FORM
