

REPORT OF THE
NCAA INTERNATIONAL STUDENT RECORDS COMMITTEE
JUNE 18, 2026, MEETING

ACTION ITEMS.

INFORMATIONAL ITEMS.

1. Review committee report. The committee reviewed and approved the report from its November 20, 2025, teleconference.

2. Review of the Exame Nacional para Certificação de Competências de Jovens e Adultos (ENCCEJA) [The National Exam for the Certification of Skills of Youths and Adults] credential from Brazil. The committee reviewed and approved the Exame Nacional para Certificação de Competências de Jovens e Adultos (ENCCEJA) [The National Exam for the Certification of Skills of Youths and Adults] credential from Brazil as acceptable proof of high school graduation. The credential is comparable to a General Educational Development (GED) equivalency diploma in the United States; therefore, the credential must also meet the specific legislative requirements of NCAA Division I Bylaw 14.3.5.2.1 (Equivalency Test/Diploma) and NCAA Division II Bylaw 14.2.8.3.1 (Equivalency Test/Diploma) to be considered acceptable proof of high school graduation. Furthermore, this credential has no expected timeline for completion and is only acceptable as proof of graduation if earned on or after the expected date of graduation (as determined by a student's initial enrollment in year nine [also called Ensino Medio 1] in Brazil). While a student may have the opportunity to earn this credential earlier than Brazil's expected 11-year timeline (three years or six semesters from initial enrollment in Ensino Medio 1), it will only be recognized as acceptable proof of graduation if earned on or after the expected date of high school graduation. An explanatory note is now included at the beginning of the Guide to International Academic Standards for Athletics Eligibility (under "Helpful Information") detailing the legislative timeline requirements for this, and any future, international GED-style credential. The Exame Nacional para Certificação de Competências de Jovens e Adultos (ENCCEJA) [The National Exam for the Certification of Skills of Youths and Adults] credential will be catalogued as a GED-based document, will only satisfy proof of graduation requirements (i.e., any accompanying exams, transcripts or other testing documents cannot be used in the initial eligibility academic certification to satisfy the academic requirements of NCAA Division I Bylaw 14.3.5.2.1 and NCAA Division II Bylaw 14.2.8.3.1) and will not be eligible for an old model certification. This information will be published in the next available update to the Guide to International Academic Standards for Athletics Eligibility.
