

Nominations Criteria
14th NCAA Division II FAR Fellows Institute
September 27-29, 2024
Indianapolis, Indiana

Each NCAA Division II conference office is requested to nominate two FAR candidates to be considered as nominees for the 2024 Division II FAR Fellows Institute. In addition, FARs at independent institutions can self-nominate for the 2024 FAR Fellows Institute.

To qualify, candidates must:

- Have served in the position of FAR at an NCAA institution for a minimum of one year;
- Be enthusiastic and interested in enhancing the role of the FAR;
- Be committed to student-athlete well-being;
- Be willing to attend the fall 2024 FAR Fellows Institute;
- Participate in pre-Institute assignments (videoconferences, readings and assessments);
- Complete all pre-Institute assignments by assigned deadlines;
- Commit to completing a project after developing an action plan at the Institute and report to the 2024 NCAA Division II FAR Fellows Institute Steering Committee;
- Have institutional support for attending the FARA and NCAA Convention meetings and for carrying out FAR Fellows Institute action plans;
- Attend the NCAA Convention for a special session aimed at sharing experiences from the Institute with others and honoring the FAR fellows; and
- Be interested in and willing to mentor other FARs.

Additionally, it is expected that FARs selected as FAR Fellows will stay in their position for some period of time after the Institute to effectively carry out the objectives of the special joint initiative of FARA and Division II.

Nominees should complete the online form by March 15, 2024.
