

NCAA Division III Positioning Statement

Follow your passions and discover your potential.

The college experience is a time of learning and growth – a chance to follow passions and develop potential. For student-athletes in Division III, this happens most importantly in the classroom through earning an academic degree. The Division III experience provides for passionate participation in a competitive athletic environment, where student-athletes push themselves to excellence and build on their academic success with new challenges and life skills. And student-athletes are encouraged to pursue the full spectrum of opportunities available during their time in college. In this way, Division III provides an integrated environment for student-athletes to take responsibility for their own paths, follow their passions and find their potential through a comprehensive educational experience.

NCAA Division III Membership Requirements

Institutions with 1,000 or more students must sponsor six sports for all male/mixed teams and six sports for all female teams. This must include at least three team sports per gender.

Institutions with enrollment of less than 1,000 students must sponsor five sports per gender, including at least three team sports.

Active member institutions must be represented by a voting delegate at the NCAA Convention business session each year and by at least one institutional staff member at NCAA Regional Rules Seminar every three years.

Active member institutions are responsible for completing the NCAA Institutional Self-Study Guide (ISSG) at least once every five years. Additionally, all head coaches and athletics administrators with compliance responsibilities must complete the NCAA Division III Rules Test annually.

The NCAA Division III Membership Committee is responsible for performing audits of membership requirements.
