Racial Justice

Asian Americans experience unique challenges in our country's racial landscape: we are seen as perpetual foreigners, regardless of our relationships to our country. We are painted to be the "model minority" and pitted against other communities of color. It is our responsibility to address prejudices within our own communities and stand alongside our partners in the multi-racial community to dismantle the systems that advance an unequal society.

Speaking Up Against Racism Around the Coronavirus

The spread of the new coronavirus has become racialized, so it's critical that educators understand the historical context and confront racist tropes and xenophobia from students and colleagues.

HOW TO STOP AAPI HATE

Here are steps you can take right now to stand up for your fellow Americans:

- 1) Ask your colleagues how they are doing. Listen to them.
- 2) Learn about the history of anti-Asian racism as well as the history of Asian Americans working in allyship with other people of color.
- 3) If you see a hate crime, document it. Use your phone/camera.
- 4) Use social media! Follow, support, and amplify community organizations doing the work:

Safety Tips for Those Experiencing or Witnessing Hate

5 Things to Consider When Experiencing Hate

1. Safety First: Trust your instincts and assess your surroundings. If you feel unsafe and you are able to, leave the area.
2. Stay Calm: Take a deep breath, limit eye-contact, and maintain neutral body language.
3. Speak Out (If you can do so safely): In a calm and firm voice establish physical boundaries, and denounce their behavior and comments.
4. Seek Immediate Support: Ask bystanders for support or intervention.
