Objectives

This database is intended as a supplement to the Revenues and Expenses Reports the NCAA produces annually. It is designed to present the information available in the report in an interactive format for enhanced user control and accessibility.

Methods

All NCAA Division I member institutions, including provisional members, provide data annually via the NCAA Financial Reporting System. In all cases, respondents are clearly instructed to limit their responses to intercollegiate athletics only, excluding intramural and club sports. Collection instructions also request that data be separated by gender, which enables data for men's and women's programs to be presented separately.

The financial data requested included: Total revenues and expenses by program (men's and women's); Total revenues and expenses by sport; Total revenues by source (e.g., ticket sales, student fees and television receipts); Total expenses by expense object (e.g., grants-in-aid, salaries and travel); and categorized salary information. Organizational data, such as the number of participating athletes, the number of sports offered, the cost of grants-in-aid and other similar information, also are requested.

Since response rates for all three subdivisions were 100%, readers are able to compare financial results for one member institution with the median and mean results for other members in the same subdivision. Readers may determine how their institutions' athletics programs are faring, relative to other similar institutions. They also may see how their institutions' financial trends in recent years compare with the trends for similar institutions. Some comparisons also may be drawn among the results in the various subdivisions.

NOTE: Because confidentiality was assured to respondents, neither the NCAA nor the author is able to provide data from individual institutions. To obtain such financial information, readers are directed to the U.S. Department of Education website to obtain EADA information for specific institutions. Readers should be cautioned that the Department of Education EADA reports do not eliminate allocated revenues from the data. The result is that many, if not most, institutions report break-even results, since institutional support covers any resulting deficit.
Suggestions for the Reader

Several basic considerations should be weighed when using the information provided in this database:

1. In 2016, the NCAA made the Institutional Performance Program (IPP) available to the membership in all three divisions. This powerful tool allows users access to a great array of financial data and allows direct comparisons to groups of peer institutions. Because this is now available, this database focuses on higher-level analyses and overall financial trends. All member institutions are encouraged to use this report along with the IPP to best understand their own athletics financial situation.

2. An individual institution’s actual results may differ greatly from that institution’s divisional median or average; no two institutions operate in identical environments or under identical circumstances. The varying sizes of institutions and their budgets, as well as the markets within which the institutions operate, may have dramatic effects on financial results. In addition, there are inherent differences in fiscal demands and resources of public institutions and those of private institutions.

3. There are significant differences across the various subdivisions. For instance, athletics programs offering football operate in a different environment from those that do not, and the impact of the differences noted above within a subdivision are likely to be even greater when making comparisons across different subdivisions. Also noteworthy is the fact that the proportion of private versus public institutions varies by subdivision.

4. Revenues and expenses that are not specifically related to men's or women's programs have been classified as nongender or, in some cases, administrative. Examples of such expenses would be those related to academic support centers or training facilities utilized by all student-athletes. Although it may be possible for many member institutions to allocate such revenues and expenses among male and female student-athletes, the inconsistencies among allocation methods of the institutions and lack of precision would result in misleading data. Until these inconsistencies and imprecisions are remedied, such items will be reported separately.

Revenues and Expenses Definitions

Revenue Definitions

Revenues appearing on the athletics budget are grouped as either: (1) Generated revenues; or (2) Allocated revenues.

Generated revenues are produced by the athletics department and are comprised of:
- Ticket sales.
- NCAA and conference distribution.
- Contributions from alumni and others.
- Bowl revenue (collected since 2016).
- Other: Guarantees and options; Third party support; Concessions; Broadcast rights; Royalties/advertising/sponsorship; Sport camps; Endowment/investment income.

Allocated Revenues are comprised of:
- Student activity fees.
- Direct government support.
- Direct school support.
- Indirect school support.
Expense Definitions
Similarly, some expense items have been grouped as either: (1) Those paid by the athletics department; or (2) Those paid by outside parties. Unless guaranteed in amount by the institution, these third-party payments should not be included in determining the net financial results of the athletics operations. In addition, indirect support from the institution, such as facilities maintenance, insurance, utilities, etc., has been isolated and reported as a line item on both the revenue and the expense side. Since indirect support is excluded from generated revenues, the resulting expense item is included in the net cost to the institution.

Revenues allocated by the institution to the athletics program. These include direct institutional support, indirect institutional support (utilities, maintenance, insurance, etc.), student fees and direct governmental support.

Athletics Aid Equivalencies
Full-time grants-in-aid awarded regardless of them being split among multiple athletes. Thus, four athletes each being awarded one-fourth of a grant would be considered one equivalency.

Capital Expenditures

Division I without Football
This division formerly was known as Division I-AAA. This group of institutions does not sponsor football, while other requirements are identical to those of the FBS and FCS.

Division II
For Division II institutions, at least 50% of all football games must be played against FBS, FCS or Division II teams. At least 50% of all basketball games (both men's and women's programs) must be played against Division I or II members. At least four men's and four women's sports must be sponsored. There are no attendance, scheduling or financial-aid requirements.

Division III
For these institutions, more than 50% of all football games must be played against Division III teams or nonmembers who grant financial aid on need only. More than 50% of all men's basketball games must be against Division III teams or nonmembers who grant financial aid on need only. At least four men's and four women's sports must be sponsored. There are no attendance or scheduling requirements, and financial aid based on athletics ability is not permitted.

Football Bowl Subdivision
This division formerly was known as Division I-A. In accordance with NCAA bylaws, the group includes those institutions that play at least 60% of their regular season football games against other FBS institutions. All but four basketball games (both men's and women's programs) must be against other FBS teams. Seven men's and seven women's, or alternatively, six men's and eight women's sports, must be sponsored. There also are requirements for attendance, scheduling and financial aid.

All but four basketball games (both men's and women's programs) must be against other Division I teams. Seven men's and seven women's, or alternatively, six men's and eight women's sports, must be sponsored. There are also requirements for scheduling and financial aid.

Generated Revenues
Those revenues generated independently by the athletics program, such as ticket sales, concessions, alumni/booster contributions, and NCAA and conference distributions.

HEPI (Higher Education Price Index)
Higher Education Price Index is an inflation index specifically to track the main cost drivers in higher education.

Inflationary Effect
The inflationary effect utilized in some tables is based on the HEPI provided by the U.S. Department of Labor and Statistics. The use of this index is intended to reflect the portion of annual increases in revenues and expenses that result from inflation.

Median Values
Median values represent the midpoint of all values reported by respondents. These median values subsequent to the 2003 fiscal period cannot be compared with the mean values reported in prior years. It also should be noted that median values are not additive. Furthermore, if at least one-half of respondents report zero values for a line item, the median value for that line will be zero.

Net Operating Results
Total generated revenues less total operating expenses. These results are reported as either Net Generated Revenue (generated revenues exceed expenses) or Negative Net Generated Revenue (expenses exceed generated revenues).

Third-Party Payments
These are payments to athletics coaches and other personnel from outside parties. Only third-party payments guaranteed by the institution are included here. Such payments are included as both revenue and expense lines.
